Character Guide

Inquisition Spymaster

WHISPERS AND SECRETS. THESE ARE the preferred weapons of Leliana, the Inquisition's spymaster. A cunning strategist with eyes and ears across Thedas, Leliana's armor is a reflection of her need to remain both unassuming and unnoticed. She dons a leather tunic lined with chainmail, affording added protection without compromising mobility. Plate greaves and leg guards ensure she can't be struck down by low swinging blows, while an ashen purple hood conceals her face when anonymity is key. The heraldry of the Inquisition rests squarely on the front of her tunic, the eye serving to remind opponents that their secrets are never safe.
